Independent auditor's report

To the shareholders of Merrill Lynch Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Company

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Merrill Lynch Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Company ("the Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, the statements of profit or loss, other comprehensive income, changes in shareholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, comprising material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2025, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International financial reporting standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by the Saudi Organization for Chartered and Professional Accountants ("SOCPA").

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing ("ISA") that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards), that is endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code's requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by the SOCPA, the applicable requirements of the Regulations for Companies, and the Company's By-Laws and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, the Board of Directors, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. 'Reasonable assurance' is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISA that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Independent auditor's report

As part of an audit in accordance with ISA that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, then we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit of Merrill Lynch Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Company ("the Company").

(A Saudi Closed Joint Stock Company)

(All amounts are in thousands Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

Merrill Lynch Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Company (the “Company” or “MLKSA”) is a Saudi Closed Joint Stock Company registered in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (“KSA”) under Commercial Registration number 7001547863 issued in Riyadh on Safar 29, 1429H (corresponding to 7 March 2008). Its immediate holding company is Bank of America Global Holdings LLC (Parent Company), a company incorporated in the United States of America. The ultimate holding company is Bank of America Corporation (“BAC”), a company organised and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware in the United States of America.

The Company is licensed by the Capital Market Authority (“CMA”) under license number 07066-37 dated 26 Jumada Al-Awwal 1428H (corresponding to 12 June 2007). The registered office of the Company is located at Kingdom Tower 22nd floor, P.O. Box 90534, Riyadh 11623, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

The principal activities of the Company are to engage in dealing activities in its capacity as an agent and principal and to undertake underwriting, arranging, advisory and custody services for securities.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

2.1. Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS) that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by the Saudi Organization for Chartered and Professional Accountants (“SOCPA”).

2.2. Basis of measurement

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis under the historical cost convention except for employees’ end of service benefits which are measured using the projected unit credit method.

2.2.1. Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements have been presented in Saudi Riyals (“SAR”) as this is the functional and presentational currency of the Company. Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. All amounts are in thousands of Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated.

2.3. Critical accounting estimates and judgments

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. Key areas where management has used estimates, assumptions or exercised judgments is as follows:

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION (CONTINUED)

Employees' end of service benefits

The Company operates a defined benefit plan under the Saudi Arabian Labour Law based on employees' accumulated periods of service at the date of the statement of financial position. The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit plan is determined using the projected unit credit method as per IAS 19 using actuarial assumptions based on market expectations at the date of statement of financial position. Refer to Note 11 for the carrying amounts of the statement of financial position items effected by this estimate.

2.4. Changes in accounting policies

New and amended standards and interpretations

In the current year, the Company has applied a number of amendments to IFRS issued by the IASB that are mandatorily effective for an accounting period that begins on or after 1 January 2025, where their adoption has not had any material impact on the disclosures or on the amounts reported in these financial statements. The accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements have been consistently applied to all periods presented in these financial statements.

Standards issued but not yet effective

Certain new accounting standards and amendments to accounting standards have been published that are not mandatory for 31 December 2025 reporting periods and have not been early adopted by the Company. The Company's assessment of the impact of these new standards and amendments is set out below:

Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments (Amendments to IFRS 9 Financial Instruments and IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures) - Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026

The amendment confirms the date of initial recognition and derecognition of financial asset and financial liability. A financial asset is derecognized on the date on which the contractual rights to the cash flows expire or the asset is transferred. A financial liability is derecognized on the settlement date, which is the date on which the liability is extinguished because the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires or the liability otherwise qualifies for derecognition. If elected, the new exception permits companies to derecognize financial liabilities settled via electronic cash payment systems before the settlement date. The reference to settlement date accounting applies only in the context of a purchase or sale of a financial asset in a regular-way transaction.

The Amendment to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 shall apply retrospectively. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material impact on its financial statements.

IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements - Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027

In April 2024, the IASB issued IFRS 18, which replaces IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. IFRS 18 introduces new requirements for presentation within the statement of profit or loss, including specified totals and subtotals. IFRS 18, and the amendments to the other standards, is effective for reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027, but earlier application is permitted and must be disclosed. IFRS 18 will apply retrospectively.

Management has started the process to assess the impact of IFRS 18 on the Company's financial statements.

Material accounting policies are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.5. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.5.1. Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(a) Classification

Financial assets of the Company consist of cash and cash equivalents, trade and client receivables, due from related parties and other receivables. Financial liabilities consist of trade and client payables, due to related parties, accrued expenses and other payables.

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income (OCI) or through statement of profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows. The Company does not have financial assets that are classified as subsequently measured at fair value through OCI or statement of profit or loss.

(b) Recognition

All financial assets are recognised and derecognised on trade date when the purchase or sale of a financial asset is under a contract whose terms require delivery of the financial asset within the timeframe established by the market concerned. Financial assets, except for financial assets at fair value through statement of profit or loss, are initially measured at fair value net of directly attributable transaction costs incurred.

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Company's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset.

2.5. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

(b) Recognition (Continued)

Business model: The business model reflects how the Company manages the assets in order to generate cash flows. That is, whether the Company's objective is solely to collect the contractual cash flows from the assets or is to collect both the contractual cash flows and cash flows arising from the sale of assets. If neither of these is applicable (e.g. financial assets are held for trading purposes), then the financial assets are classified as part of 'other' business model and measured at fair value through statement of profit or loss.

Factors considered by the Company in determining the business model for a group of assets include:

- past experience on how the cash flows for these assets were collected;
- how the asset's performance is internally evaluated and reported to key management personnel;
- how risks are assessed and managed; and
- how managers are compensated.

The business model assessment is based on reasonably expected scenarios without taking 'worst case' or 'stress case' scenarios into account. If cash flows after initial recognition are realised in a way that is different from the Company's original expectations, the Company does not change the classification of the remaining financial assets held in that business model, but incorporates such information when assessing newly originated or newly purchased financial assets going forward.

Financial assets that are held for trading and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at fair value through statement of profit or loss because they are neither held to collect contractual cash flows nor held both to collect contractual cash flows and to sell financial assets.

SPPI: Where the business model is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows or to collect contractual cash flows and sell, the Company assesses whether the financial instruments' cash flows represent solely payment of principal and interest (the "SPPI" test). In making this assessment, the Company considers whether the contractual cash flows are consistent with a basic lending arrangement i.e. profit (or special commission income) includes only consideration for the time value of resources, credit risk, other basic lending risks and a profit margin that is consistent with a basic lending arrangement.

There are three measurement categories into which the Company classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost
- Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)
- Fair value through statement of profit or loss (FVPL)

Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows, where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in the statement of profit or loss and presented in other gains/(losses) together with foreign exchange gains and losses. ECL are presented as separate line item in the statement of statement of profit or loss.

All recognised financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at amortised cost.

Financial liabilities, except for financial liabilities at fair value through statement of profit or loss, are recognised initially at fair value net of transaction costs incurred and are subsequently stated at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method.

(c) Derecognition

A financial asset is derecognized, when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or the asset is transferred, and the transfer qualifies for de-recognition. In instances where the Company is assessed to have transferred a financial asset, the asset is derecognized if the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership. Where the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership, the financial asset is derecognized only if the Company has not retained control of the financial asset.

The Company recognizes separately as assets or liabilities any rights and obligations created or retained in the process. The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled or expired

(d) Impairment

The Company assesses on a forward-looking basis the expected credit losses (“ECL”) associated with its financial assets carried at amortised cost. The Company recognises a loss allowance for such losses at each reporting date. The measurement of ECL reflects:

- An unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes;
- The time value of resources; and
- Reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

IFRS 9 outlines a 'three stage' model for ECL based on changes in credit quality since initial recognition as summarized below:

Stage 1: (Initial recognition) 12-month expected credit losses

Stage 2: (Significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition) Lifetime expected credit losses

Stage 3: (Credit impaired assets) Lifetime expected credit losses

The financial assets of the Company that are subjected to ECL review include cash and cash equivalents, due from related parties and other receivables. ECL on cash and cash equivalents and due from related parties are assessed based on the above staging criteria.

(d) Impairment (Continued)

For trade and client receivables, the Company applied the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. Under this approach, the Company measures the loss allowance for accounts receivable at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. The ECL on accounts receivable are estimated using a provision matrix by reference to past default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate, and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date. As at 31 December 2025 and 2024, there is no ECL provision required on receivable balances as these are held with government owned entities and are of short-term nature.

The Company writes-off trade and client receivable when there is information indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and when there is no realistic prospect of recovery.

Measurement of ECL

Definition of default:

The Company considers a financial asset to be in default when:

- the borrower is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Company in full, without recourse by the Company to actions such as realising collateral (if any is held); or
- past due more than 90 days on any material credit obligation to the Company.

In assessing whether a borrower is in default, the Company considers indicators that are:

- qualitative - e.g. breaches of covenant;
- quantitative - e.g. overdue status and non-payment on another obligation of the same issuer to the Company; and
- based on data developed internally and obtained from external sources.

Inputs into the assessment of whether a financial instrument is in default and their significance may vary over time to reflect changes in circumstances.

Incorporation of forward-looking information

The Company incorporates forward-looking information into both its assessment of whether the credit risk of an instrument has increased significantly since its initial recognition and its measurement of ECL. Based on advice from the Risk Committee of Parent Company and economic experts and consideration of a variety of external actual and forecast information, the Company formulates a 'base case' view of the future direction of relevant economic variables as well as a representative range of other possible forecast scenarios. This process involves developing additional economic scenarios and considering the relative probabilities of each outcome. External information includes economic data and forecasts published by governmental bodies, monetary authorities, supranational organisations, and selected private-sector and academic forecasters.

The key inputs into the measurement of ECL are the term structure of the following variables:

- probability of default (PD);
- loss given default (LGD);
- exposure at default (EAD).

Refer to Note 8 for the carrying amounts of the statement of financial position items effected by this estimate.

(e) Offsetting

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and are reported net in the statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and when the Company intends to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

2.5.2. Trade and client receivables and payables

Trade and client receivables and payables include amounts owed to or by the Company relating to executed transactions on behalf of clients over a two-day settlement period. The amount represents the value of the executed transaction and are stated net of commissions. Trade receivables also include collateral placed with the Central Counterparty Clearing House at the Saudi Stock Exchange

2.5.3. Impairment of non-financial assets

Non-financial assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount which is the higher of an asset's fair value less cost to sell and value in use. Non-financial assets, other than goodwill, that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of impairment at each reporting date. Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but the increased carrying amount should not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately in the statement of profit or loss. Impairment losses recognised on goodwill are not reversible.

2.5.4. Income and deferred tax

In accordance with the regulations of the Zakat, Tax and Customs Authority ("ZATCA"), the Company is subject to income tax. Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax which is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax payable or receivable is the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received that reflects uncertainty related to income taxes, if any. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax also includes any tax arising from dividends.

Deferred taxation is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they reverse, based on laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be utilised.

2.5.5. Withholding tax

The Company withholds taxes on transactions with non-resident parties and on dividends paid to foreign shareholders in accordance with ZATCA regulations.

2.5.6. Value added tax (VAT)

The Company is subject to VAT in accordance with the regulations in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Output VAT related to revenue is payable to tax authorities on the earlier of (a) collection of receivables from customers or (b) delivery of services to customers. Input VAT is generally recoverable against output VAT upon receipt of the VAT invoice. The tax authorities permit the settlement of VAT on a net basis. VAT related to sales/services and purchases is recognised in the statement of financial position on a gross basis and disclosed separately as an asset and a liability. Where provision has been made for ECL of cash and cash equivalents, the ECL is recorded for the gross amount of the debtor, including VAT. VAT that is not recoverable is charged to the statement of profit or loss as expense.

2.5.7. Employees' end of service benefits

The Company operates an end of service benefit plan as required by KSA Labour Law which, amongst other factors, is based on most recent salary and allowances, and number of service years. The valuation of the Company's obligations under the plan are based on the projected unit credit method. The cost of the employment benefit is recognized immediately in statement of profit or loss. Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions, if any, are recognised in the period in which they occur directly in other comprehensive income. The Company recognises a net asset or liability, being the difference between the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period and the fair value of plan assets.

End of service payments are based on the employees' final salaries and allowances and their cumulative years of service, in compliance with KSA Labour Law.

2.5.8. Share-based payments

Bank of America ("BAC") grants equity-based payment awards to employees of the Company under various incentive schemes.

For most awards, expense is generally recognised proportionately over the vesting period net of estimated forfeitures, unless the employee meets certain retirement eligibility criteria. For awards to employees that meet retirement eligibility criteria, the Company accrues the expense in the year prior to grant. For employees that become retirement eligible during the vesting period, the Company recognizes expense from the grant date to the date on which the employee becomes retirement eligible, net of estimated forfeitures.

As this is a group share based payment arrangement, all awards are treated by the Company as equity settled share-based payment plans and are measured based on the fair value of those awards at grant date.

2.5.8. Share-based payments (Continued)

The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period, based on the Company's estimate of the number of shares that will eventually vest. The Company has entered into a chargeback agreement with BAC under which it is committed to pay BAC the market value at grant date as well as subsequent movements in fair value of those awards to BAC at the time of delivery to its employees. The share based payment transaction and chargeback agreement create a total charge to the profit and loss based on the grant date fair value of the awards adjusted for subsequent movements in the fair value of those awards prior to delivery.

The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period is recognized under staff cost and the subsequent movement in the fair value prior to delivery is recorded in also in staff cost.

2.5.9. Revenues

The Company recognises revenue under IFRS 15 using the following five steps model:

| | |
|--|--|
| Step 1: Identify the contract with customer | A contract is defined as an agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations and sets out the criteria for every contract that must be met. |
| Step 2: Identify the performance obligations | A performance obligation is a promise in a contract with a customer to transfer a good or service to the customer. |
| Step 3: Determine the transaction price | The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties. |
| Step 4: Allocate the transaction price | For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, the Company allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation. |
| Step 5: Recognise revenue | The Company recognises revenue (or as) it satisfies a performance obligation by transferring a promised good or service to the customer under a contract. |

Based on the above five steps, the revenue recognition policy for each revenue stream is as follows:

Fee income

Fee income consists of charges made to remunerate the Company for services provided. Service fee income is recognised on an accruals basis when the service is provided in accordance with BAC's Global Transfer Pricing Policy.

Brokerage income

Brokerage income is recognised when the related transactions are executed by the customers at the price agreed in the contract with the customers, net of discounts and rebates and fees. The performance obligation of the Company is satisfied when the customer carries out the transaction, which triggers immediate recognition of the revenue, as the Company will have no further commitments.

Success fees, as the name indicates, is recognised upon fulfillment of performance obligations. For example, achievement of certain objectives as a financial advisor.

Underwriting fees

Underwriting fees are recognized when the Company has rendered all services to the issuer and is entitled to collect the fee from the issuer.

Custody fees

Custody fee income arises from safekeeping, administration and related custodial services. Custody income is recognised on an accruals basis when the service are provided following the revenue recognition approach under IFRS 15.

2.5.10. Assets held in a trust or in a fiduciary capacity

Assets held in trust or in a fiduciary capacity are not treated as assets of the Company and are accordingly treated as off-balance sheet items.

2.5.11. Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents current and non-current assets, and current and non-current liabilities, as separate classifications in its statement of financial position.

The Company classifies an asset as current when it expects to realize the asset, or intends to sell or consume it, in its normal operating cycle; holds the asset primarily for the purpose of trading; expects to realize the asset within twelve months after the reporting period or the asset is cash or a cash equivalent unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

The Company classifies a liability as current when it expects to settle the liability in its normal operating cycle; holds the liability primarily for the purpose of trading; the liability is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period or when the Company does not have a right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

3. RISK MANAGEMENT

Legal entity governance

BAC has established a risk governance framework (the “Risk Framework”) which serves as the foundation for consistent and effective management of risks facing BAC and its subsidiaries (including the Company). The Risk Framework applies to all the employees. It provides an understanding of the Company’s approach to risk management and each employee’s responsibilities for managing risk. All employees must take ownership for managing risk well and are accountable for identifying, escalating and debating risks facing the Company.

The following are the five components of the Company’s risk management approach:

- Culture of Managing Risk Well;
- Risk Appetite and Risk Limits;
- Risk Management Processes;
- Risk Data Management, Aggregation and Reporting; and
- Risk Governance

Focusing on these five components allows effective management of risks across the seven key types of risk faced by MLKSA, namely market, credit, liquidity, reputational, strategic, compliance and operational risk.

Set out below is a summary of the Company's approach to each of the risk types.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market conditions adversely impact the values of assets or liabilities or otherwise negatively impact earnings.

MLKSA mainly offers direct equities market access to GCC based institutional clients on an agency basis. In addition, and to a limited extent, MLKSA can hold Saudi stocks as part of an IPO or if foreign entities are not allowed to hold them. Risk limits have been introduced to cover key risks including VaR and single name price risk to facilitate the expanded offering. FICC lines of business do not transact using MLKSA. The branch does not therefore incur any market risk from those business activities.

Market Risk Management

The Global Markets division of BAC seeks to run its business on a globally consistent basis. This means that the market risks assumed by Global Markets are identified, measured and controlled on a consistent basis irrespective of the location in which they are taken and booked. Market Risk Management in MLKSA is a decentralized process with centralized oversight. To be effective, all personnel involved in risk related activities are an active part of the risk management process and regular reporting provides transparency across front line units (“FLU”), management and Board.

Currency risk: Currency risk arises from the possibility that fluctuations in foreign exchange rates will affect the value of financial instruments and cash flows. The Company's foreign currency transactions are primarily denominated in US Dollars for which the exchange rate is pegged to the Saudi Riyal and exposures in other foreign currencies are not significant.

3. RISK MANAGEMENT (CONTINUED)

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss arising from the inability or failure of a borrower or counterparty to meet its obligations.

Credit risk management: The Company manages credit risk to a counterparty based on their risk profile, which includes assessing repayment sources, underlying collateral (if any), and the expected effects of the current and forward-looking economic environment on the borrowers or counterparties. Underwriting, credit management and credit risk limits are proactively reassessed as a counterparty's risk profile changes.

Credit risk management includes the following processes:

- Credit origination
- Portfolio management
- Loss mitigation activities

These processes create a comprehensive and consolidated view of the Company's credit risks, thus providing executive management with the information required to guide or redirect FLU and certain legal entity strategic plans, if necessary.

As BAC's exclusive broker/dealer in Saudi Arabia, the Company is focused on its securities activities which account for the majority of its credit exposures.

As at 31 December 2025 and 2024, cash and cash equivalents, trade and client receivables, due from related parties and other receivables are recoverable in the ordinary course of business. Cash is placed with the Central Counterparty Clearing House ("CCP"), local and foreign banks with sound credit ratings.

Trade receivables, due from related parties and other receivables were neither past due nor impaired at the statement of financial position date and are monitored by management.

The table below shows the maximum exposure to credit risk for the relevant components of the statement of financial position:

| | Note | 2025 | 2024 |
|------------------------------|------|------------------|------------------|
| Cash and cash equivalents | 8 | 82,704 | 148,931 |

Trade receivables, due from related parties and other receivables were neither past due nor impaired at the statement of financial position date and are closely monitored by management. At 31 December 2025, Fitch rating of the Saudi Awwal Bank and Bank of America NA London Branch in which cash at bank is held is F2 and F1+ respectively (2024: Moody's P-1 for both).

Inputs, assumptions and techniques used for estimating impairment

When determining whether the risk of default on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Company's historical experience and expert credit assessment and including forward-looking information.

The objective of the assessment is to identify whether a significant increase in credit risk has occurred for an exposure by comparing:

- the remaining lifetime probability of default (PD) as at the reporting date;
- the remaining lifetime PD for this point in time that was estimated at the time of initial recognition of the exposure.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the inability to meet expected or unexpected cash flow and collateral needs while continuing to support the businesses and customers, under a range of economic conditions.

Liquidity risk management:

Each of the FLUs are accountable for managing liquidity risk by establishing appropriate processes to identify, measure, monitor, and control the risks associated with their activities. Global Risk Management (“GRM”) provides independent oversight and supervision of FLU activities and an independent view of the liquidity risk of FLU activities.

The Company is covered under the BAC Enterprise Liquidity Risk Policy (“LRP”) which establishes the overarching governance, controls and risk management practices to monitor and manage liquidity risk across the entity and is approved by the BAC Board on an annual basis.

MLKSA has an uncommitted funding line with Merrill Lynch International that it may draw down on to prevent liquidity risk to support MLKSA’s trading activity.

9. SHARE CAPITAL

As at 31 December 2025 and 31 December 2024, the subscribed and fully paid-up share capital of the Company consists of 14.3 million shares of Saudi Riyals 10 each and are held as follows:

| Shareholder | Country of origin | Percentage | Shareholding |
|---|------------------------------|-------------------|---------------------|
| Bank of America Global Holdings L.L.C. | USA | 96% | 137,280 |
| Merrill Lynch Group Holdings I L.L.C. | USA | 1% | 1,430 |
| Merrill Lynch Group Holdings II L.L.C. | USA | 1% | 1,430 |

| Merrill Lynch International L.L.C. | USA | 1% | 1,430 |
| | | 100% | 143,000 |

10. STATUTORY RESERVE

In accordance with the previous Saudi Arabian Regulations for Companies and its By-Laws, the Company was required to transfer 10% of its net income annually to a statutory reserve until such reserve equaled 30% of the paid-up capital. This reserve was not available for distribution to the shareholders.

As per the new Companies law, the minimum statutory reserve requirement has been removed. Accordingly, no further allocations have been made.

11. EMPLOYEES' END OF SERVICE BENEFITS

The Company operates a defined benefit plan in line with the Labor Law requirements in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. The end-of-service benefit payments are based on the employees' final salaries and allowances and their cumulative years of service at the date of their termination of employment, as defined by the conditions stated in the Labor Law of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Employees' end-of-service benefit plans are unfunded plans and the benefit payment obligation are met when they fall due upon termination of employment.

The amounts recognized in the statement of financial position and movement in the obligation during the year based on its present value are as follows:

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|---|--------------|-------------|
| Present value of defined benefit obligation | 5,850 | 4,870 |
| Movement of defined benefit obligation | | |
| | 2025 | 2024 |

11. EMPLOYEES' END OF SERVICE BENEFITS (CONTINUED)Reconciliation of present value of defined benefit obligation

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|---|---------------------|---------------------|
| Present value of defined benefit obligation as at 1 January | 4,870 | 4,293 |
| Current service costs | 710 | 679 |
| Interest cost | 255 | 206 |
| Actuarial loss / (gain) from experience adjustments – OCI | 216 | (31) |
| Benefits paid during the year | (201) | (278) |
| Present value of defined benefit obligation as at 31 | 5,850 | 4,869 |

Principal actuarial assumptions

The following range of significant actuarial assumptions was used by the Company for the valuation of post-employment benefit liability:

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|---|-------------|-------------|
| Valuation discount rate | 5.00% | 5.45% |
| Expected rate of increase in salary level | 4.00% | 4.00% |
| Withdrawal rate | 10.00% | 10.00% |

Sensitivity analysis for actuarial assumptions

| | Change in assumption | | Impact on employee benefit obligations | |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------------------|---|-------------------------------|
| | Increase in assumption | Decrease in assumption | Increase in assumption | Decrease in assumption |
| At 31 December 2025 | | | | |
| Discount rate | 5.50% | 4.50% | (209) | 223 |
| Salary growth rate | 4.50% | 3.50% | 224 | (212) |
| At 31 December 2024 | | | | |
| Discount rate | 5.95 % | 4.95 % | (177) | 190 |
| Salary growth rate | 4.50 % | 3.50 % | 192 | 181 |

The sensitivity analysis is based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of defined benefit obligation calculated with projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied when calculating the employee termination benefits.

The duration (i.e. mean term) of the defined benefit obligation as of the period end date is 7.7 years (2024: 7.85 years).

24. SHARE BASED PAYMENTS

BAC administers a number of equity compensation plans, with awards being granted predominantly from the Bank of America Corporation Equity Plan (BACEP). Under this plan, shares of BAC's common stock are authorised to be used for grants of awards to the Company's employees.

During the year ended 31 December 2025 BAC granted 44,516 (2024: 38,649) restricted stock units (RSU) awards with a weighted average fair value of SAR 44 (2024: 120) to certain employees of the Company under the BACEP, which will settle predominantly in shares of common stock of BAC. The four year awards vest primarily in one fourth increments on each of the first four anniversaries of the grant date, provided that the employee remains continuously employed with the Company during that time. The expense recognized is net of estimated forfeitures for nonretirement eligible employees based on the grant date fair value of the shares.

The total pre-tax compensation cost recognized in statement of profit or loss for share-based compensation plans for the year ended 31 December 2025 was SAR 6,256,368 (2024: SAR 4,772,934), including the incremental effects of the chargeback agreements with BAC included within General and administrative expenses of SAR 96,279 (2024: SAR 42,834).

The restricted shares granted will vest each year over a total period of four years.

25. ASSETS HELD IN A FIDUCIARY CAPACITY

In connection with its brokerage business, the Company stands ready to meet the obligations of its clients with respect to securities transactions. The Company's maximum potential exposure under these arrangements is difficult to estimate; however, the potential for the Company to incur material losses pursuant to these arrangements is remote.

As at 31 December 2025, the Company does hold client money of SAR 41.97 million (2024: nil).

26. FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Underlying the definition of fair value is the presumption that the Company is a going concern and there is no intention or requirement to curtail materially the scale of its operations or to undertake a transaction on adverse terms.

A financial instrument is regarded as quoted in an active market if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

When measuring the fair value the Company uses market observable data as far as possible. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: quoted prices in active markets for the same instrument (i.e. without modification or repackaging)

Level 2: quoted prices in active markets for similar assets and liabilities or other valuation techniques for which all significant inputs are based on observable market data: and

Level 3: valuation techniques for which any significant input is not based on observable market data.

The carrying value of all financial assets and liabilities reflected in the financial statements approximates their fair value due to their short term in nature. An active market for these instruments is not available and the Company intends to realize the carrying value of these financial instruments through settlement with the counter party at the time of their respective maturities and accordingly these are considered as Level 3 financial assets. There have been no transfers between levels during the year.

27. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

There are no further events subsequent to the reporting period which require adjustment or disclosure to the financial statements.

Offsetting considerations

Under IAS 32, offsetting was assessed and through consultation with the legal counsel of the company it was established that the company does not have a legally enforceable right to offset the receivable/payable of Muqassa and therefore, cannot be offset.

29. Comparative figures

Certain reclassifications have been made in prior year's notes to the accounts for better presentation. Details are as follows:

| Account Title | | Notes | | 31 December | 1 January |
|------------------------|-------------------|-------|------|--------------|------------|
| From | To | From | To | 2024 | 2024 |
| Due to related parties | Retained Earnings | 16.1 | SOCE | 1,671 | 628 |

Management has reassessed its equity-based payments to employees under the group share-based payment arrangement and reclassified related balance from due to related parties to the retained earnings.

There is no effect on statement of profit or loss and statement of comprehensive income.

30. APPROVAL OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
